

THE OREGON DRAWING MACHINE

I feel privileged to have one of my drawing machines on display at your gallery. It was custom built to enable visitors to make their own drawings and to have something to remind them of their visit. Whilst other machines are in the collection of both the London Science Museum and the UK Computer Arts Society, at Oregon there is an interactive machine permanently used. It is exciting to be so well represented in the USA. This is all due to the dedicated efforts of Glenn Smith who has been a pleasure to work with on this project. We hope that it promotes the understanding of generative art.
